Independent country model
The difference between the predicted value and the observed value.